OBJECTIVE

Recently graduated and eager to branch into a professional position in a company where I can grow both professionally and personally; specifically seeking a challenging position where I can utilize my skills to contribute to a company's success. I am organized, hard-working, highly motivated, a quick learner, and able to grasp and execute new ideas in a fast-paced environment fairly easily. I'm extremely proficient in communication skills and able to provide a good experience for all parties involved, as well as ready to soak up knowledge from an organization willing to provide me with this opportunity.
